

Libbie Farrell

whoislibbiefarrell@gmail.com

Bio:

Libbie Farrell (They/She) is a white settler and interdisciplinary artist from rural Alberta, on Treaty 6 Territory. They are currently based in Sackville, New Brunswick where they are completing their Bachelor of Fine Arts at Mount Allison University. Their work is interested in exploring and reclaiming queer bodies and the culturally 'unsightly' elements of them. By employing an often tongue in cheek approach, they explore these concepts through printmaking and fibre or textile-based approaches.

Education

Expected 2024 - Bachelor of Fine Arts - Mount Allison University.

Exhibition history:

2020 Some Form of Chaos - Group Show - START Gallery, Sackville NB

The D.G.S.Y.R (Doom Gloom Stuck in Your Room) Report -Group Show- Ziferblat, London, UK

Award History:

Gibbons Lassonde Performance Award – 2021

Marster Prize for Humour in Fine Arts – 2021

Related work history:

Studio Assistant to Lucas Morneau - September 2020- April 2021

Studio Assistant to Breanna Shanahan – May 2021